A woman with her hair in a high ponytail stands in the center of the frame, wearing a long-sleeved jumpsuit with a bold pink, white, and blue geometric pattern. The jumpsuit features a high collar, a button-down front, and decorative floral embroidery on the lower left leg. She is positioned in front of a large, rustic stone archway. To the left, a traditional brick building with a tiled roof and wooden balconies is visible. The background shows a clear sky and distant hills. The overall aesthetic is a blend of modern fashion and traditional architecture.
